The New Postoffice.

Postmaster Hamblin is new nearly settled in his new quarters, which are both roomy and convenient. Over two hundred new boxes are already added, and the number of lock boxes will soon be increased. The arrangements in money order department are also to be improved. The new mailing table of the latest improved patterns will greatly facilitate the work of making up the mail, while the new general delivery will be appreciated by the citizens so long accustomed to the narrow limits of the old office. The demand for these im provements is shown by this one fact, six years ago sixteen thousand postal cards supplied the demand of the office while now it takes twenty-five thousand to meet

Piano Recital,

In response to invitation we attended the recital, given by the pupils of Miss Millie Comstock, at her home, on Friday evening last.

The pleasant parlors were well filled with the parents of the pupils and invited guests. The music was excellent, showing thoroughness and skill on the part of the teacher, and careful painstaking practice on the part of the pupils. By reques at the close of the exercises, Miss Comstock, who is herself a pupil of Professor Hahn, in Detroit, rendered Polonaise. Vess, in an artistic manner, Altogether it was a very pleasant affair.
